Perfectly made of best materials. Surely mothers will want more than one pair at such low prices—two or three pairs for each youngster, at least.

This is the first time within our recollection that we have been able to offer such enormous bargains in little children's shoes.

We took a wholesaler's entire stock of this kind of footwear—3,033 pairs—at have marked them at selling prices that barely cover the cost of their making.

Nearly every style is in two or three different kinds of leather, so that the variety is enormous, and every pair is English made.
